

FAU/IAB-Seminar Macroeconomics and Labor Markets

Winter Term 2024/2025

The Chairs of Macroeconomics (Christian Merkl) and Global Governance and International Trade (Christoph Moser) at FAU and the Macroeconomic domain at IAB co-organize a joint seminar series at the intersection of macroeconomics, trade and labor economics. The seminar typically takes place on Tuesdays at noon or 2 pm (German time). A preliminary schedule can be found below. The seminar will take place in hybrid form in winter 2024/25. If you are a researcher and you are interested to join the talks, please send an e-mail to macrolabor.seminar@gmail.com.

Schedule

22 October 2024 noon (FAU, LG 4.154)	Britta Gehrke (Freie Universität Berlin) Short-Time Work and Precautionary Savings
5 November 2024 noon (IAB, E10)	Christian Kagerl (IAB) The Employment and Windfall Effects of Short-Time Work: Evidence from Germany
19 November 2024 3 pm (Zoom)	Pauline Carry (Princeton University) Conflict in Dismissals: The Failure to Separate by Mutual Agreement in France
3 December 2024 2 pm (IAB E09)	Helmut Herwartz (Universität Göttingen) Catching-Up or Falling Behind? The Evolution of Wage Prospects under the German Labor Market Reforms
14 January 2025 noon (IAB E10)	Ramona Schmid (Ifo Institute) tba
28 January 2025 noon (FAU, LG 0.423)	Andreas Gulyas (Universität Mannheim) tba